MY TRAJECTORY

First stage (1984 – 1997)

I started my career in mid-1984 as a Trainee programmer at the national company Duratex. At this time, he used the programming languages Cobol and Assembly. The encoding was carried out on punched cards and the result of the processing arrived in zebra lists a day later.

Time passed and we started using terminals to enter the code of the programs. It also evolved and came the promotions for Junior, Full and Senior programmers. New languages were also learned, such as Easytrieve and CICS.

I went from Programming to Systems Analysis in 1990 and started working with the business area developing IT solutions. It raises the requirements, specifies the way to treat them, passes it on to the programmers, tests the solution and obtains the approval of the users to carry out the implementation. He served Duratex and the Deca Metal Factory in the production processes.

At the end of 1990 I had the opportunity to start my journey at the German multinational Hoechst in the chemical and pharmaceutical industry. I started my journey as a Junior Systems Analyst and was responsible for the maintenance and development of IT solutions for the purchasing, sales and production process areas.

I developed IT solutions in Cobol/CICS for these areas and was promoted to Analyst
Senior Systems being responsible for the Quality Control subsystem of the SHTP system (Hoechst Teleprocessing System) that ran on the IBM mainframe.

Second stage (1997 – 2014)

In 1997, Hoechst was bought by the Swiss specialty chemicals company Clariant. With it, the SHTP system would be deactivated for the implementation of the SAP system. The implementation was carried out in all the company's units around the world. All system modules have been implemented.

I was promoted to SAP Functional Analyst and had the responsibility of implementing the SAP QM module throughout Latin America. In 24 months, all modules were implemented in Brazil, Argentina, Chile, Peru, Colombia, Venezuela and Guatemala.

I was in all countries working in the process areas so that the QM (Quality Management) process was fully implemented.

Then we had the SAP update project in 2,000 with all the updates to address the Millennium Bug among other new tools to be implemented.

Continuing this journey I participated in SAP QM implementation projects in Portugal, Mexico. I was also in a Process Redesign project, implementation of improvements and specific tools of SAP QM such as the Quality Notification System that was implemented globally in the Clariant world.
I also led other projects in SAP QM of the incorporation of other companies by Clariant in which the Clariant process received improvements, and the process of the merged company was replaced. An example of this was the project to incorporate the Swiss company Süd-Chemie.

I was with SAP QM, PP, PS and PM users in several countries, and they were very enriching and unforgettable activities. All teams were very proactive in the various countries: Brazil, Argentina, Chile, Peru, Colombia, Venezuela and Guatemala, Germany, Switzerland, Portugal, the United States and Thailand.

During these projects I received several promotions and became Process Coordinator for the Latin America operations team and led the Production, Maintenance, Projects and Quality processes.

Then I became a Global Operations Consultant for SAP application development.

In 2014, Clariant underwent major restructuring, and several areas were eliminated and others eliminated. SAP support has been transferred to a Global company based in China. I was fired and received a package to retire for the length of service.

During my projects, I accumulated about 135 months as a team leader and 65 months as a project leader using the ASAP methodology and PMBOK concepts. All SAP projects are described at the end of this document.

Third stage (2014 – 2017)

In 2015 I decided to change my area of expertise as SAP Functional Analyst to WEB Developer and started my professional update studying .NET. I developed a platform.

In mid-2016 I had the opportunity to work at the Indian consultancy TCS (Tata Consultancy Services). Start as an SAP QM consultant working in the handling of tickets for the company MARS. After some time, I had the opportunity to coordinate the team for MARS service.

In mid-2017, due to my mother's health issues, I decided to leave TCS.

After everything was resolved, I went back to update myself to continue the development of my WEB platform. I finished my courses at Udacity, Udemy, and Oracle One.

Fourth stage (2017 – until 2024)

In July 2021 I was hired by Avanade as a Front-end Developer. I dedicated myself to the maximum working remotely during the Covid-19 pandemic. I was promoted to Back-end / Front-end developer working with JAVA, NODE, AWS, AGILE PROJECTS. It was a period of great learning, and my career transition completed successfully.

In mid-2024, due to health problems in my family, I decided to leave Avanade.

Fifth stage (present day)

I continue in my professional update, now, with the Artificial Intelligence resources that I am applying to update all my data and previous projects. I'm also upgrading my previously developed platform

I have no forecast for a stop. I am passionate about development and technology. May new challenges come!
